DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-10, drawn to a cell composition.
- II. Claim 11, drawn to a method of identifying a polypeptide.
- III. Claims 12 and 13, drawn to a method of identifying a ligand.
- IV. Claims 14-24, drawn to a cell composition.
- V. Claim 25, drawn to a method of identifying a polypeptide.
- VI. Claims 26 and 27, drawn to a method of identifying a binding ligand.
- VII. Claims 28-36, drawn to a cell composition with heterologous nucleic acid.
- VIII. Claims 37 and 38, drawn to a method of identifying a ligand.
- IX. Claims 39, drawn to a method of identifying a polypeptide receptor for a ligand.

Art Unit: 1639

X. Claims 40, drawn to a method of identifying a functional polypeptide fragment.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II, III, V, VI, VIII, IX and X are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are drawn to different methods including different method steps for each of the grouped methods and/or starting material, reagents and/or conditions.

Inventions I, IV and VII are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are drawn to different cell compositions containing different components differing in structures, having possibly different functions and/or modes of operations.

Inventions (II, III, V, VI, VIII, IX and X) and (I, IV and VII) are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are drawn to two numerous, different methods and cell compositions. The composition, as recited, is capable of being used in the different processes.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II-X restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

A. Cells expressing Cre recombinase or Flp recombinase as recited in e.g., claim 4.

B. Cell sites as Lox (loxP or lox511), identical or non-identical.

C. Single modified peptide sequence as recited in e.g., claim 2 encoded by a variant nucleic acid.

Each of the species recited in subgroups A-C differs in structure, modes of operation. Each species requires different patentability determination under the different statutes. A prior art reference anticipating one species would not render obvious the other species.

Art Unit: 1639

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 1, for example, is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
